“Vibrant, colorful and dynamic...
the beauty of a Majestic marimba is not only heard, but felt... creating an instant connection between performer
and audience.”

Casey Cangelosi

Professor of Percussion at Concord University, Renowned Composer and Performing Artist

Transforming the percussive arts.

Majestic mallet instruments, timpani and concert drums are rapidly becoming the preferred instruments for today's percussion soloists, sections and ensembles. New features that assure reliable performance and the best possible quality of sound allow performers, students and educators to focus on musicianship.

Be innovative. Be expressive. Be Majestic.
